Tina Sweet

Tina
Hello! ever since I met you at Steve's house I've hated you! (no, just kidding HaHa) You're a very nice person and I'm glad I can say I know you.
Keep smilin' and have fun this summer.
Love
Bill
Boyd

Tina-
Sorry you didn't want to go out with Tom Morgan.
But anyways it was fun in the hood gossiping. Take care and I'll see you in the summer.
Love ya,
Peggy

-Tina-
I'm glad that I got to know you better in Español.
Have fun este verano. I hope we have some classes together and ~~see~~ ^{see} you.
Andy Wilson

my dearest b-b-b-bettina and the jets → wow, can ~~be~~ you believe the year is over? Wasn't it great! we had such a strong friendship all year long and i totally loved every second of it. You are so fun to be around, we sure have done some unsane things. Remember all of our songs? "let's get it on", "who was that man", "I'll never forget
'can't hold' back, ANY LONGER", and boo-boo boo, and of course, your sixteen, your beautiful and your mine! Hey buddy, you are great. I'll never forget Riverside and all those tunes at the beach and at open parties. We go wild with all those screwdrivers! For sure this summer you'll have to come to T street with me! Hit those big banana's! When i get my license I promise to take you cruisin for once! and remember our prime rib dinner! I really hope our friendship lasts forever, without you, im nowhere!! ohhhhhh. this summer will be so rowdy for us. I know you will get so black. We'll have to play tennis a lot and when you try out for the team, i'll go with you. Be sure to scope out a cutie at the wedding i know they will follow you around, because you are "my love and my life, and you are my inspiration" can you believe how crazy i am? But you are too!
I love you always you B.M. but I won't say good bye CUZ I'll see you all the time just

Later Baby,

Movin' is to have an adventure of your own. To see how high you can reach, how high you can soar. To have freedom like a bird. To glide and dive within the endless reaches of the sky. To rise into the sky and seek freedom. That's movin'.

Give me a moment, a break in time. To sort out the thoughts that rise and fall silently within me. To be a part of the quiet movement around me.

Lina,
 Well, it's just about over. You're really a nice person, and I'm glad I got to know you. Have a great summer, and I'll see you next year. Love ya,

I've become a part of the cheering crowd.
Seeing faces, meeting friends. Passing through the surging blur of life.

Time,
you're a beautiful person, please stay that way.
we had some pretty good times together huh?
Take care this summer if I don't see ya and keep smiling for me.

Organizations

Perhaps the newest addition to the structure of the Pep Squad was the creation of the

Pep Class

that met daily during third period, in order to create more organized and planned student activities among the various pep organizations. The Varsity Cheerleaders were quite an asset as they successfully achieved the purpose of the class.

Stimulating class competitions at brilliant pep assemblies and intriguing performances at the microphone by Ben DeMarzo were just a few of the Varsity Cheerleader's many activities. They were also known to decorate the band room for parade season.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders finally received recognition as they were included as a part of the pep squad for the first time in the school's history.

They enthusiastically participated in all pep assemblies, rallies and the new third period pep class. Besides encouraging the teams, the "Good-Humor" ed girls provided ice cream and cookies for the Junior Varsity, Sophomore, and Sophomore-Freshman teams.

Far Left: Sheryl Ferberdino and Jeff Armstrong, promising cross country and water polo stars, exhibited their athletic abilities at a pep assembly.

Far Right: The creative Flag Girls consisted of Kathy Hanks, Linda Phillips, Sue Sambo, Linda Whittier, Karen Sandbom, and Becky Parker.

Bottom Middle: Kathy Hanks directed the Flag Girls' efforts to create an overall excitement at school.

Bedrooms

appeared to be the scene of the Song and Flag girls' action as they decorated Varsity players' rooms with posters and streamers, encouraging team spirit and a hopeful victory for the upcoming games. In trying to establish friendlier relations with the other schools, the girls provided homemade cookies and candy for the opposing team's pep squad at halftime. The Song girls were very successful in creating an outstanding amount of student involvement and school spirit among the entire student body for all sports events. The Flag girls were included as part of the pep squad instead of a band auxiliary, as done in the years past. Despite a delay in the girls' uniforms, they gave their utmost in establishing a positive and enthusiastic attitude throughout the school.

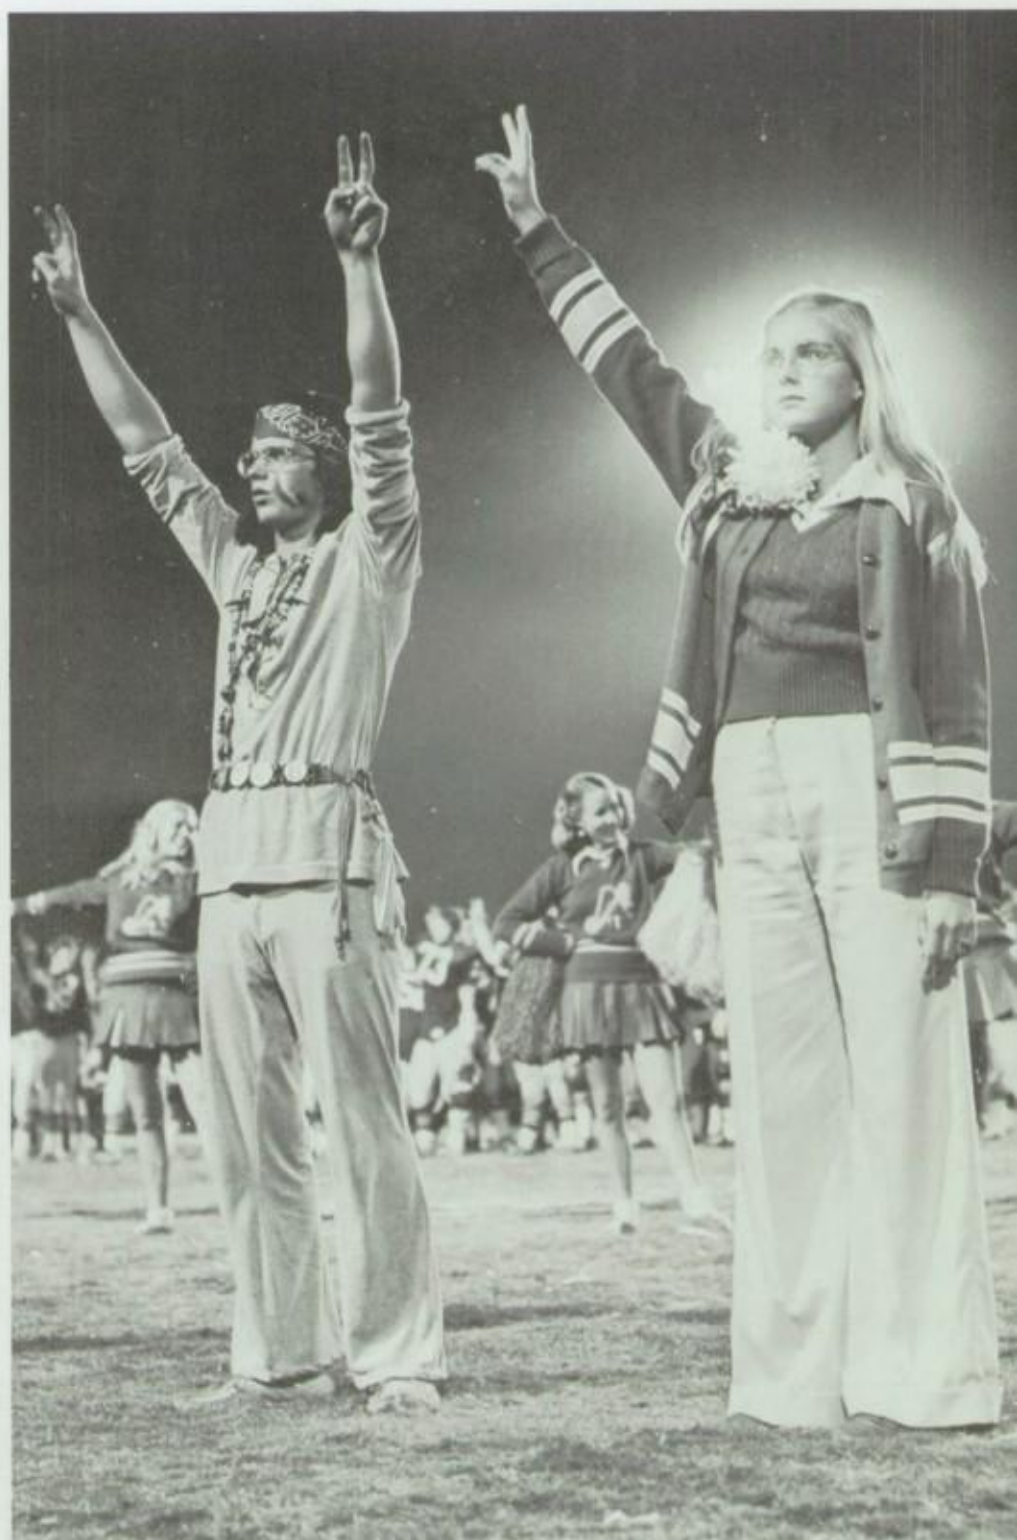

Vandalism made its mark with the Pep Band, as the musicians came back from the Bishop Amat football game to find that had been stolen from the parking lot. It came as quite a surprise to Scott Borden who had come to the game with a car, and couldn't believe he had lost it in such a short time. Nevertheless, the guys played on, complete with red and gold uniforms. New to the year's format was the addition of a new drum set. In compliance with the newly structured pep squad, the Pep Band provided a greater majority of music for pep routines, discouraging the use of records.

Predictions were one of Apache Joe's, Kevin Roberts, many jobs. Although not always correct, he greatly inspired the student body and the various teams. Kevin was also responsible for making the banners through which he led the football team before each home game.

Pep Commissioner, Amy Freiburger, served on the Activities Council, preparing and planning pep events and pep decorations for the campus.

An unusual problem arises when one finds himself in the predicament of having two

The Apache Tom-Tom Drill Team, however, obviously overcame this problem as forty-eight members radiantly displayed their marching abilities with no apparent difficulty. High caliber and energetic attitudes were stimulated by Head Tom-Tom Karen Killian; right and left guides, Anne Long and Randi Wallstrom; and advisor, Mrs. Mary Ann Latham. Sparkling halftime and parade performances highlighted the season. A third place award at the Chino Band Review was the spark needed to ignite an atmosphere of hard work and discipline; for at the Santa Monica parade, one week later their efforts paid off. The girls took an impressive second place after an excellent showing of their skills. The marching season came to a close with the West Arcadia Band Review and terminated with the thrill of performing at the Ram's half-time in December.

Designing routines and trying to master them took a majority of the Princesses' time. Many of the girls' brilliant ideas included the use of flags during halftimes, a different banner for parades, and eye catching uniforms. In addition to one headdress losing its stuffing in parade competition, the Princesses experienced another "first": Pauline Godfrey was their new advisor.

Buzzed Again

described the band members who created an unusual commotion as 91 heads said goodbye to their long curly locks and prepared for a victorious marching season. An atmosphere of excitement and hard work was initiated by the new band director, Mr. David Alstadt, formerly from Foothills Junior High School. The band's positive attitude, pride, and fine showmanship was encouraged and perfected by Kim Burdick, the only junior Drum Major in the school's history. A first place trophy at the Chino Band Review on October 27, proved to be the kick-off of an unbelievable season. The Apaches marched on to a sweepstakes at the Santa Monica Band Review, followed by the hosting of the West Arcadia Parade. With high hopes and a determined outlook towards a sweepstakes victory, the band competed in the Long Beach All-Western Band Review on November 24. Despite a superb performance, inspection errors proved to be very costly, as the Apaches took a first place in their division. Despite this honor, however, the band felt somewhat defeated. Their spirits gradually picked up as the season was complemented by yet another highlight when the Los Angeles Rams asked the Apache Marching Band to perform at halftime on December 16 at the Coliseum.

Kristi Hansen, Arcadia's solo majorette, displayed her many talents at various halftime performances.

Loud Mouths

swept the school as the Chanteurs and A Cappella choir auditioned and selected students with strong musical voices. In addition to training their vocal chords, they participated in the annual concert held at the San Gabriel Civic Auditorium. The charming Chanteurs displayed their abilities at Homecoming and at various places throughout the community. The PTA, Senior Citizens, and Kiwanis club had the pleasure of hearing sparkling performances. The Chanteurs also sang at the Santa Anita Church and at the Antique Inn and did extremely well in competition against other vocal groups in the state.

Many different areas of school life have been given attention by the Executive Council and this year their concern dealt with the intriguing aspect of

Parked Cars

Proposals for the resurfacing of the student parking lot were planned and successfully carried out. Executive Council, composed of the Senate and Activities Council, also further improved the 5th Quarters. Rather than the Assemblies Commission having to plan the evening, clubs on campus were given the chance to sponsor the event, assuming all responsibilities for the night.

The House of Representatives formed a to find topics that concerned students, which could be presented and discussed at the House of Representative meetings. The purpose of the House of Representatives was to direct the Executive Council on what actions to take on important issues such as Open Lunch. By holding meetings every three weeks the House of Representatives proved to be very strong and successful. The Speaker of the House was Dave Dolkas, who worked diligently to make it successful.

Paul Revere's famous cry was recorded as, "The British are coming!" Along that same line in history, Arcadia's cry might well have been "The are coming!" But a second look proved that they were members of the honorary service club, known as the Kiowas, merely wearing their club jackets. The early Wednesday morning rendezvous were nothing more than organizational meetings. Plans made by President, Margie Spencer and the chief presidential aide, Mrs. Hatter, included a luncheon between Monrovia's Monarch's and Madquins to improve their foreign relations. Outside party activities included selling programs at domestic football games, an exclusive progressive dinner banquet with such high officials as the Senior Men, overseeing the public scandals of Back to School and College Nights, and donating campaign funds to the Recreation Department, in the form of secretly wrapped candies.

"Action '73-'74" could well describe the Senior Men's year for even before school began they had already launched a program of service. Baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies were the sights of the Senior Men's first activities. This was merely a practice run, for the real test of service came during the hectic registration period and tedious job of checking the supply boxes in classrooms. Keeping with the ecology movement, aluminum cans and glass bottles were collected during a successful reclamation drive. Many events were shared with the Kiowas such as the banquet with Monrovia's honor clubs, ushering at school functions and selling football programs. But perhaps the best coed activity between the two clubs was the sponsoring of a Fifth Quarter, featuring Blues Image.

At the beginning of the school year members of Girls League sold See's suckers and held a cake walk as fund raisers. For Valentine's Day the girls made money by selling and delivering carnations to the student body.

The Duke and I was the theme for the Girls League, Father-Daughter banquet. The Banquet was held on March ninth at the Homestead in Duarte. It was an active year for the Girls League members, under the direction of Mrs. Stoner (sponsor) and Mary La Patka (president).

An appropriate title for the new addition to the P.E. program, for juniors and seniors could have been rather than Cross Age Teaching, as elementary school children in kindergarten through third grade tried to get their high school teacher's attention. The first quarter was devoted to learning playground techniques under the direction of a new addition to the staff, Mrs. Carol Slater. The remaining three quarters involved on the spot teaching at Holly Avenue and Longley Way. Two days a week were spent developing lesson plans while the other three days involved teaching new games using homemade equipment. The parachute game and playing with stilts were among the kid's favorite activities. After the four sophomore female class officers were honored by junior and senior members at a banquet the Hostesses club began their year by serving for the "Your School in Action" luncheon. Their services were offered at other gourmet affairs, including Women's Club, P.T.A., and American Legion meetings. Food played a very important role in the Junior Exchangettes program. Halloween popcorn balls and Christmas candy canes were sold to students. Pot-luck dinners were the scene of plans for still more fund raisers with the result ending in part of the funds being used towards buying the Varsity Cross Country team new uniforms. There might be some truth still in "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." The remainder of the funds were donated to a worthwhile charity.

The determined snow bunnies of Arcadia High, more commonly known as the Ski Club, sponsored an exhilarating ski trip to Utah during Christmas vacation. This was quite an improvement over last year's trip as nobody was for unusual behavior. The highlight of this trip could easily be described as the celebration of New Year's Eve, complete with poppers and streamers, taking place on the bus. And it should be noted that the "dependable" bus only broke down twice on the way up to Utah.

The Key Club, one of the more active clubs, held their traditional Christmas tree sale, donating 2,500 dollars net profit to Arcadia Methodist Hospital and the City of Hope. All of the leftover funds from various money raising events, including the "Dollar for a Scholar" sale were used for a trip to Catalina.

Next to

the theater was one of Arcadia High's largest forms of entertainment. Thanks to the never ending talent and imagination of the Thespians, a large part of the school's drama department, the student body once again enjoyed a season of interest arousing plays. The drama department's main production was "Mame," which attracted an enormous number of play viewers.

The Thespians couldn't have gotten very far if it was not for the devotion displayed by members of stage crafts. These students in charge of constructing props and backdrops for the plays, spent many hours almost every weekend, and after school striving for perfection in their products.

"Pancake" was the most valuable tool to the Make-up Club as they painted many faces with this wonderful white concoction. Few people realize that in addition to the actors' performance a realistic appearance is important too.

These groups were all successfully coordinated under the direction of Mr. Payne and Mr. Starr who spent as many hours on the productions as the students.

The J.E.T.S., alias the Future Engineers Club spent several weeks planning and constructing a hovercraft. It was intended to fly around the track during Homecoming, but due to the craft was unable to leave the ground. The club made trips to several local engineering firms so as to learn new engineering techniques. The Model Rocket Club launched their first major missile in October. President, Steve Laszlo, called several meetings so as to discuss ways of improving and perfecting rockets for future launches. Besides just launching their model rockets, the club showed a film on defense and research missiles. In December the club decided to change the sight of their launch to the desert. Ten to twenty energetic girls, deserving to be teachers, held numerous meetings to discuss their goals in education. Club sponsor, Mrs. Cass, and President, Linda Sanders made many plans for the activities of the Future Teachers Club.

Difficulties Beyond Their Control

Many classical dance stars, awaiting to be discovered, were enrolled in the first period dance class, more commonly known as Orchesis. The specially selected girls divided into small therapy groups to work out the problems affecting their

Twinkling Toes

Due to the tremendous dance skills taught by their teacher Mrs. Voznick, the girls held a successful Spring Dance Show.

And while Orchesis was on dry land, there was another group of girls who had set sail in the Arcadia pools. The Synchronized Swim Club took to the water to express their form of ballet.

Their perfected talents, under the direction of Miss Rice, were exhibited in their successful sixth annual Aquacade, entitled Aquarius, held during mid-March.

Right: The talented synchronized swim team consisted of: Debbie Suess, Pam Marronne, Sharon Banns, Christie Plato, Patti Forillo, Mary Amato, Sheryl Newton, Niki Banns, Shelley Borchert, Kim Christian, Muffy Aijian, Diane Ipema, Laura Sewell, Sue Bineault, Mary Beth Peters, Franceen Laidlaw, Judy Leisner, Rose Henningson, Sara Kaplan, and Sue Williams.

The Modeling Club had their share of this year as the girls successively sold many of these See's candies to the student body. Selling popcorn and doughnuts highlighted other fund raising events.

A Halloween party at Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor and Christmas caroling at a convalescent hospital were among some of the girls' activities. More along the lines of modeling, guest speakers from Avon and Holiday Magic presented many different techniques of personal grooming and fashion to the club. Using this information the girls modeled for the Photography class at Wilderness Park.

An impressive membership of fifty students allowed the Ech-o-nee Club to serve the community in many ways. Wrapping gifts for the Arcadia Recreation Department, having two parties for small children in Arcadia and San Gabriel, and ushering at school drama plays were just a few of the service projects that the girls took part in.

Once again the Creative Writing Club selected many different styles of students' creativity in artwork, poetry and stories and published another outstanding Creative Writing book. The club members met weekly under the direction of Ms. Nancy Cash and Mrs. Pauline Brittan and critiqued the submitted material.

The time of the action was last summer in August. The scene of the action was Mineral King where

Nature Lovers

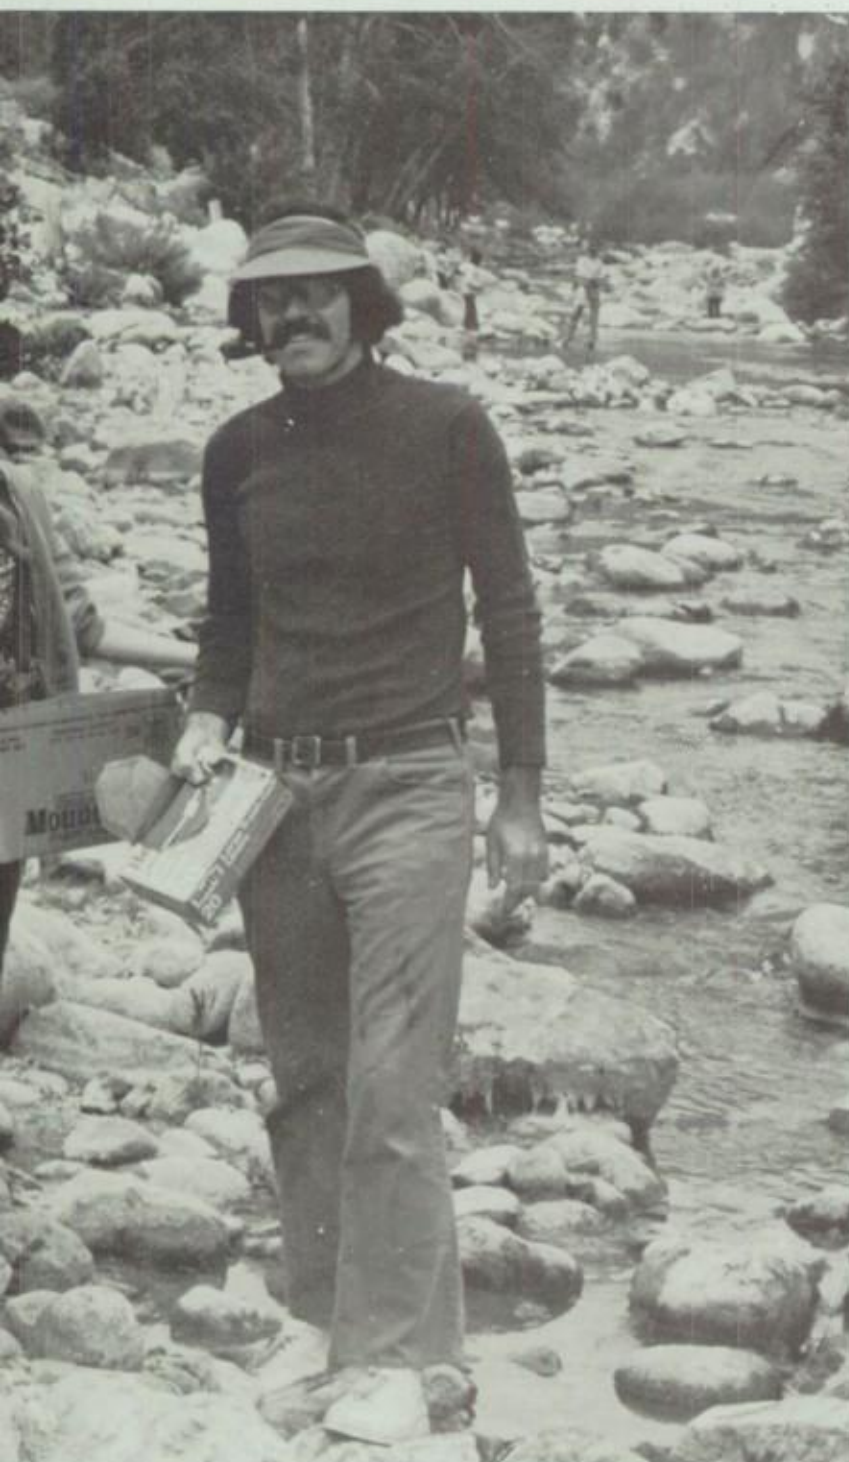

Mr. Ron Morris, sponsor of the Ecology Club and three members embarked on an exciting eight-day backpack trip. In addition to their mountain frolics, the club feasted among themselves at potluck dinner meetings held in the summer. An impressive enrollment of 137 students during Club Day enabled the club to massively direct their efforts to a successful river clean-up project, to a paper drive, and to helping Mother Nature with a tree planting endeavor. Ms. Marsha Kading and Mr. Barry White aided Mr. Morris in establishing one of the most successful clubs at Arcadia.

Fifteen energetic mountain climbers and five willing adults kicked off the Hiking Club's season with a trip to Oak Wilde campgrounds in the San Gabriel Mountains. Dawn Mine was the scene of still another excursion while numerous other hikes were scheduled throughout the year.

The Arcadia High School Forensics team once again spoke their way to a productive and successful year. Veteran Apache orators were joined by numerous new speakers, confirming the statement that there's strength in numbers. Arcadia's team made its mark throughout Southern California, starting with the annual Homecoming parade. Forensics' first laurels came as the squad captured the Sweepstakes award for the most outstanding float in the parade. Forensics won top honors with a float depicting the Doctor Doolittle classic Talk to the Arcadian speakers competed in such events as extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, impromptu, debate and interpretations at speech functions throughout the year. Almost always taking a full entry, the Arcadia squad visited such schools as UCLA, Tustin, Beverly Hills, Patrick Henry and La Mirada. The squad's untiring efforts paid off when several students, accompanied by sponsor Boyce R. Harris attended the California State Speech Championships in Fresno. As the season drew to a close, Arcadia High School participated in the National Qualifying Tournament, trying to gain a berth in the National Championships. Arcadia had a strong team which captured many a top honor.

Animals

The weekly editions of the Arcadia High School Pow Wow newspaper were written by an almost entirely

New Staff

Many hours were spent by the staff working at the publishing company every Saturday. The Pow Wow had a completely new and improved style and format. Mr. O'Brien (advisor) was actively involved in the production of the papers. Larry Marscheck, who proved to be a successful Editor-in-Chief, worked hard to make the paper more of a "students' publication."

The American Field Service club took the Foreign Exchange students

Trick or Treating at Halloween. This was a new and exciting event for the four Exchange students. The American Field Service Club's main goal was to earn money, through what proved to be successful fund raising events. Among these events were the selling of Halloween insurance, and a walk in January. The club also had the time to come up with a Homecoming float which won an award for originality. Their theme for this float was "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing."

Also visiting Arcadia High School as a Foreign Exchange student was Paula Fowler (Australia).

Activities

Excited and rowdy football fans did not cease to give support to the Apaches as they struggled to gain points. Arcadia Pep Squad members under the command of Ben DeMarzo got together to formulate two very successful cheers, Boogie and

Get It On!

Nothing could make the football season more complete than the thrilling halftime shows by Arcadia's superior band. The Tom-Tom Drill Team added a spark of creativity and originality to their routines. Solo Majorette Kristi Hansen also added to the excitement and entertainment.

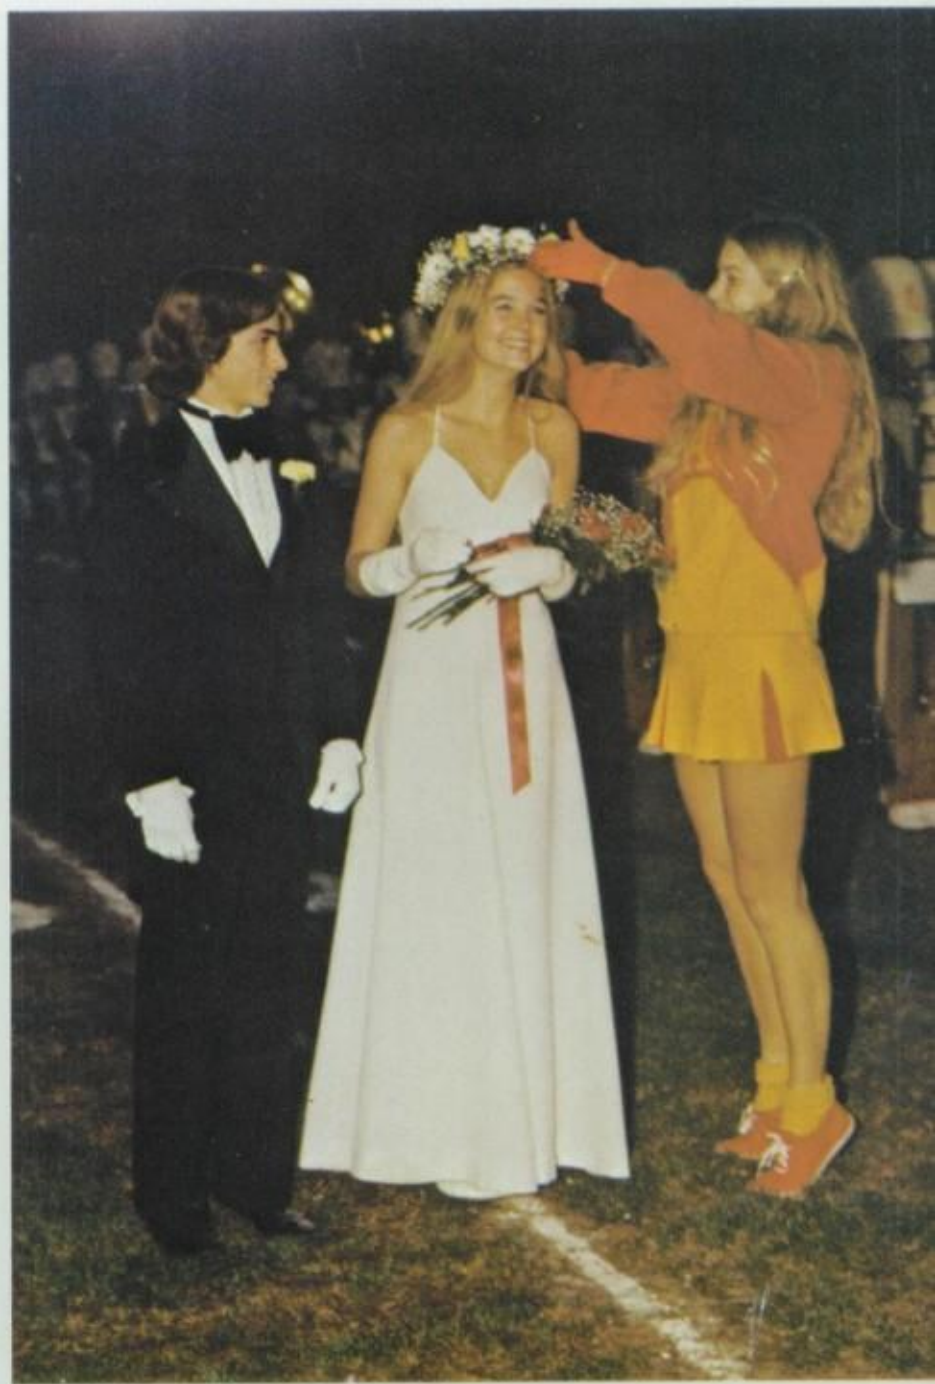

Above left: Apache Joe, Kevin Roberts, delivered his weekly predictions of the outcome of the football games. Above far left: Doreen Moore and Kathy Rawnsley "boogied" to Arcadia's fight song. Below far left: Flag girl Kathy Hanks, Cheerleader Sheryl Ferberdino, and Song Girl Susie Dale generated enthusiasm at a noon pep rally. Far above: Pep section members displayed their support for the team with the "V" for victory sign. Left: Pep Band leader Steve Marcussen added a lofty yellow balloon to his trumpet at the Pasadena game. Above: Chris Elder and Karen Sandborn were nabbed by some winter sports players in a game of musical chairs.

"Musical Fantasy" added a new dimension to the traditional Homecoming parade of floats. A song best representing the float was chosen by each club to be sung by the Chantuers. A concert and dance featuring the bands followed the game with Montebello. Queen Ceci Johnson and her court reigned over the day's homecoming festivities, which included a pep assembly and coronation ceremony at halftime.

Various clubs and organizations sponsored fund raisers during the fall. Two very successful campaigns were the Key Club Christmas Tree Sale and day sponsored by the Mat Maidens. Pep squad members were auctioned off and students bid on the "slave" of their choice. Mr. Burke led the auctioning. Other fund raisers during the winter were the Forensics candy sale, Kiowa stocking sale and candle sale by members of the football team.

Clubs were not well represented this year when the annual I.C.C. Club Day was held. All organizations on campus were given the opportunity to let the student body know about their respective clubs by displaying posters or other information concerning their activities. Along the same lines prior to the beginning of school, students struggled through the frustration and of the registration process. Lost programs, last minute requirements, teachers' recommendations, and many other complications helped to add to students' problems. Surprisingly enough, registration was a success thanks to the many who helped organize the procedure.

Little Richard, saddle shoes, mid-length skirts, red lips and leather jackets were revived, as Arcadia High was on a nostalgia kick for Nifty Fifties Day. Both students and faculty dressed reminiscent of the Rock'n Roll era. Voted Miss Bee-Bop during second lunch was Paula Fowler, Jim Patapoff was Mr.

Tremendous talent characterized the Senior Jesters productions in the fall and winter. The comedy, "George Washington Slept Here" was set in a old cabin with Byron Gunther and Jody Grimshaw, John Koeppel and Sue Robertson sharing the lead parts. The drama of "The Diary of Anne Frank" was superbly presented by the senior Jesters with Laurie Blue as Anne Frank. The play had the high honor of being held over due to such popular demand.

Never before in Arcadia history have so many students taken part in a major activity on campus. School tryouts, workshops, practices and more practices were characteristic of the hard working students. From dancers to make-up crew, musicians, costume designers and actors are only a part of the total effort. Finally, on May 1, 2, 3 and 4, Arcadia proudly presented their professional production. Talent scouts infested the San Gabriel Civic Auditorium for the

of the musical Mame. Barbara Dorsch won the leading role with a supporting cast of 20.

The Junior Jesters performed many outstanding plays, notably the last three, Ms. Athena, Thunder on Sycamore Street, and The Long Christmas Dinner. Humor struck the dramatic Japanese play, Village School, when a girl a sword meant to kill her. The sword hit a table and fell apart, only to be followed by the line, "The sword seems to be a bit blunt!"

Ducked

The Road Show, consisting of all school talent, thrilled many audiences with their zany skits and classical music performances. Divided into three companies according to audience appeal, they delighted audiences at the Miss Arcadia Pageant and Juvenile Hall.

Two unique and totally unprecedented events, the motocross race and the basketball game took place at Arcadia High for the first time. A troupe of rubber-hoofed donkeys proved to be the main attraction at the hilarious basketball game and Junior class fund raiser. With little cooperation from the strong willed animals, the students trampled both the high school faculty and city police. The motocross race involved Arcadia and San Marino high schools on Feb. 14 at Irwindale raceway, with Arcadia taking the major trophy. The student body proved to be enthusiastic, as a crowd of 1,200 were on hand to watch the cyclers.

Beating Bishop Amat in pre-season play was the highlight of the football season. Bishop Amat was heavily favored to win because Arcadia dropped their two opening pre-season games to San Marino and cross town rival, Monrovia. Arcadia claimed the game for the second time in their last two meetings. After the Bishop Amat match Head Coach Dick Salter had faith that the Arcadia Varsity team would gel into a winning team. But and injuries resulted in the loss of Steve Miller, Bill Stone, and Clay Mathews that put Arcadia back in the standings of the Pacific League. In all, six losses, a tie with Montebello on homecoming night and two victories against Bishop Amat and Alhambra brought the Apaches to the end of a frustrating season.

Arcadia's Junior Varsity squad

Battled Tough

all year, but failed to emerge victorious.

Standouts of the squad included the sure running of Alonzo Aquirre and the tough defensive playing of linebacker Jim Margett along with Tom Woodard and Carl Haosis. Although the season proved disappointing overall, the Arcadia Junior Varsity team was always in the game playing rugged football.

Starting off slow by dropping their first four pre-season games, Arcadia's Sophomore squad came on strong, becoming in the Pacific League. They finished second in the league with three wins, one loss, and one tie record, losing only to El Rancho in the final play of the game. The Sophomore-Freshman team had a disappointing season winning only their league opener against Muir. However, after defeating Muir, the team lost many players to the upper division sophomore team. John Leeper, Eric Taborek, Scott Lauer, Bryan Jonassen and Chris Carlson led the Varsity Cross Country Team to their second perfect 10-0 season. John Leeper set a new course record and tied the school record with a 9:59 home course mark. Highlight of the meet this year was a fantastic 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th place finish by the above varsity runners against league runner-up Alhambra, giving Arcadia a perfect 15 point score.

Scott Lauer won the all-league meet, followed by Leeper and Taborek in a perfect 1-2-3 finish. The Junior Varsity finished in second place with a fine 5-1 record. The sophomores beat Alhambra by a close 27-28 score to take the league title with a 6-0 league record. Larry Hallberg and Gary Lund led the team, with each running a new sophomore school record of 10:54 in different meets. Hallberg won the all-league Frosh-Soph Championship.

The 1973-1974 Varsity Basketball Team posted an extremely poor league mark with nine losses and only one win, dropping from last years second place and C.I.F. Qualifier to dead last in the Pacific League. With only one returning varsity letterman, Larry Eustachy, the defeats are easily understood. Inexperience was their major handicap as the Apaches faced many highly trained and experienced squads. The team made up for their inexperience in hussle and

and lost many very close games. Craig Penne, the teams leading scorer was placed on the First Team All Pacific League and (Capt.) Larry Eustachy received Honorable Mention. Providing a sturdy defense and a powerful offense were these outstanding senior guards: Gary Greene, Jim Boyd, and Steve Beerman. Next years hope lies in juniors Scott Erdman, and Scott Jorgenson.

This year's Soph-Frosh and Sophomore Reserve Basketball teams battled against and finished a very disappointing season. With the Soph-Frosh Basketball squad fought to a respectable third place spot overall with a 6 win and 4 loss record in the Pacific league. Outstanding players were Dave Denny and Ron Wagner.

Stiff Competition

The Sophomore Reserve basketball squad had it tough all year. In preseason they boasted a 10 win and 12 loss record, while in regular season they won only three, losing seven. The outstanding player and team captain was Matt May.

Plagued with injuries and inexperience the 1973-1974 Apache wrestling team disappointedly finished fourth over-all in the Pacific League. With only four of thirteen regular varsity spots being occupied by seniors, the squad had to rely on six juniors and three sophomores. Shackled with the team lost many close matches. Two other seniors, Walter Sanford and Cameron King were injured and their positions had to be filled with underclassmen.

Outstanding members of the squad were Garry Stauber, Kevin Brooks, Peter Hughes, Joe Marinelli, Dan Bear and Dean Murray. Finishing first in league finals and qualifying for C.I.F. were seniors Peter Hughes and Kevin Brooks and junior Greg Stegner. Both Hughes and Brooks were eliminated in the prelims, but second year veteran Stegner went on to take 11th overall in C.I.F.

Losing only four seniors, Coach Burke and the team hope for a first place in the Pacific League next year.

Aside from regular dual meet competition the Varsity, Junior Varsity and Sophomore teams competed in many invationals such as the Hawthorne Distance Carnival Southern Counties Meet, Mount SAC, Foothills and the year's highlight, the Arcadia Invitational. It was here that these were at their best. Eric Taborek set a new school record in the mile with a 4:12 run. The Apache middle distance runners placed well in the Mile Relay. Runners Dave Bohmke, Rich Shonfeld, Joel Griffith and Chuck Pacheco nearly clipped the school mile relay record, of 3:20.6. Utility man, John Leeper, through hard work and determination also provided an inspiration to his teammates. Jack Lansford consistently put the shot over the respectable 50 foot mark. Bob Foy, long and triple jump specialist along with Imre Santha, school high jump record holder provided the strength in Arcadia's field events as did Dana Harrison whose record pole vault was 14 feet. The JV track team captured the league championship after a very successful year. The Sophomore track team, also league champs had many fine individual performances led by Gary Lund, the mile and two mile champ; Matt Mew, Dave Anderson, Jim Schoelz and Larry Halberg.

The new head coach, Dave Ackerman, sought after the pacific league title after a preseason mark of five wins and three losses. Also in preseason, the Varsity baseball team took a consolation place in the tough El Segundo tournament. Inexperience at the varsity level seemed to play an important role at the beginning of the season, but confidence and heavy hitting from outfielder Steve Jasco, infielders Scott Prophet and Brad Ducich helped their team to be in the pacific league.

Junior Brad Ducich, who was the only returning varsity letterman, turned his efforts to infield play instead of pitching as he had done his rookie year.

Ace pitchers, Gene Marzo, Kym Mantz and Jim Vogel headed up the bullpen.

Recognized for its powerful hitting, the junior varsity baseball team was able to support an undefeated pre-season mark under second year coach John Meiers. The only team to tie the junior varsity was San Marino. The consistent pitching from Tony Carri, Mark Knueven, southpaw Todd Wilson, and reliever Jim Berger helped to keep the games under control.

Team captain and outfielder Kurt Osenbaugh, shortstop Kevin Reed, centerfielder Greg Jones, and first baseman Gary Mitchell supplied much of the hitting and defensive plays to lead their team to victory. Catcher Rob MacGregor constantly made plays under pressure while Keith Rasmussen helped with both his hitting and fielding.

An all-round effort was made by the junior varsity to win their games, and certainly with their talent they were sure to win many ball games.

The Sophomore baseball team was a solid club with

Versatile Players

Luke Lynch and Dave Anderson traded off at first base as Don Daniels and Billy Carlson alternated at second base. Both Lynch and Carlson, when not playing their infield positions, played the outfield. Rich Krol held down shortstop, along with Ralph Sposato at third base while Eric Albertson and Jay Schellin alternated behind the plate. With the abundance of players on the sophomore team, second year coach Tom Broadhead was blessed with a lot of talent to work with.

Fundamentals are taught at the sophomore level to help the baseball program at Arcadia High to be acknowledged as one of the finest baseball schools around.

The Varsity Soccer team was coached by Al Manachuk. Standouts included Captain Juan Aguirre, and Juan's younger brother, Alonso. Both helped pace the attack for the Apaches. All Pacific League man Bob Voden, who led the Apaches to many victories, also starred. The Junior Varsity team included the Stowitts brothers Mark and Paul and standout Jim McComb. The J.V. team won the Pacific League first place title with a and one tie record. It was a good year for both soccer teams made possible by the efforts of all players.

The Tennis teams spent many hard working hours in practice before league matches on the courts. Players took time to beef up on skills and style and were well prepared for their opponents. The players were especially good at returning balls on a serve. The strength of both teams however was in the excellent performance of many talented and devoted members.

The Varsity Golf team this year had only Craig McClure as a returning letterman. With only one other senior Ken Barclay, the golf team was comprised of three juniors, Craig Dondanville, Farris Jabara, and Tom Browning and sophomore Greg Knight.

The number one man in tournaments was Craig McClure. The rest of the spots were decided by the golfers' playing of the previous week.

In preseason both Varsity and Junior varsity teams got off to a shakey start with taking only three tournaments. But after the golfers settled down their

One of the few teams to earn the high honor of going to CIF was this year's Volleyball Team. Co-captain's Dave Corley, and Jim Carlson led the team to many fine victories. Practices were devoted to brushing up on skills such as serves and returning balls. Their hard efforts paid off as the team was rewarded with a good record and a very successful year.

Above: "A" Volleyball team joyfully goes to meet their opponents after victory. Above right: Barbra Halquist and one of her fast serves. Above far right: Terry Dembitz spikes a point gaining ball. Middle right: Elaine Symonds volleys at net to save point.

The Girls' Tennis Team was privileged to observe the making of a

as Candy Cusack after an unsuccessful attempt finally mastered the art of clearing the net to meet her opponent. The team, however, did exhibit a strong showing of tennis skills and strategy on the courts. A new element of "togetherness" was introduced as both "A" and "B" teams competed against the same school in league play.

Miss Lynn Schultz, like any new coach, was faced with the problem of "learning the ropes" of discipline and training for a team. However, she did lead the "A" team to C.I.F. finals with an undefeated record. After wins against aggressive teams such as Schurr, Alhambra, Mark Keppel and Montebello High Schools.

Basketball is a team sport that requires a high level of skill; this year's team had it. Ms. Stone coach, noted that the team was in scoring during most first quarters, but soon caught up and eventually won most of their games. With rough competition from schools like Schurr High School, the girls experienced much pressure, but soon proved they could handle it and defeated Schurr as well.

Members of the Girl's Basketball Team were:
(Row two) Susan Lookabaugh, Terry Dembitz, Chris Gotta, Linda Mohr, Sandy Bolger, Louise Fasana, Anita Paquin, Ann Cleghorn, Vicky Simon.

The Girl's Swim Team this year was a hardworking group. With strong swimmers such as Pam Findley, and Laina Tan, the team went far in the league. Miss Rice, known to the girl's as Rice-a-Roni

said that the girls were all great and problems were few.

The Girls Swim team this year consisted of:

The 1973-1974 Board of Education opened communication lines between parents, students, and faculty members this a very successful year at Arcadia High School. Faculty and administration tried several different techniques this year to improve the registration and finals situation. The P.T.A. also played an active part in registration. Different members performed such duties as handing out class cards to the hundreds of students registering daily, and keeping track of who registered and who hadn't. Most of the ladies involved were by the number of students registering and by the look of desperation on their faces as they frantically raced from table to table seeking their desired classes.

Awed

Tina -
 It's been great knowing you this year even if I don't know you too well.
 I hope to see ya
 this summer.
 I'm really glad I met you, you're really a great person and beautiful, too!

'1974 marks the tenth year that Dr. Richard W. Cordano has been Principal of Arcadia High School. During these ten years many changes have occurred — changes that are an educational tribute to leadership that encourages the creative efforts of student body, faculty, and community. With sincere gratitude we deeply appreciate Dr. Cordano's long years of service and anticipate many more.

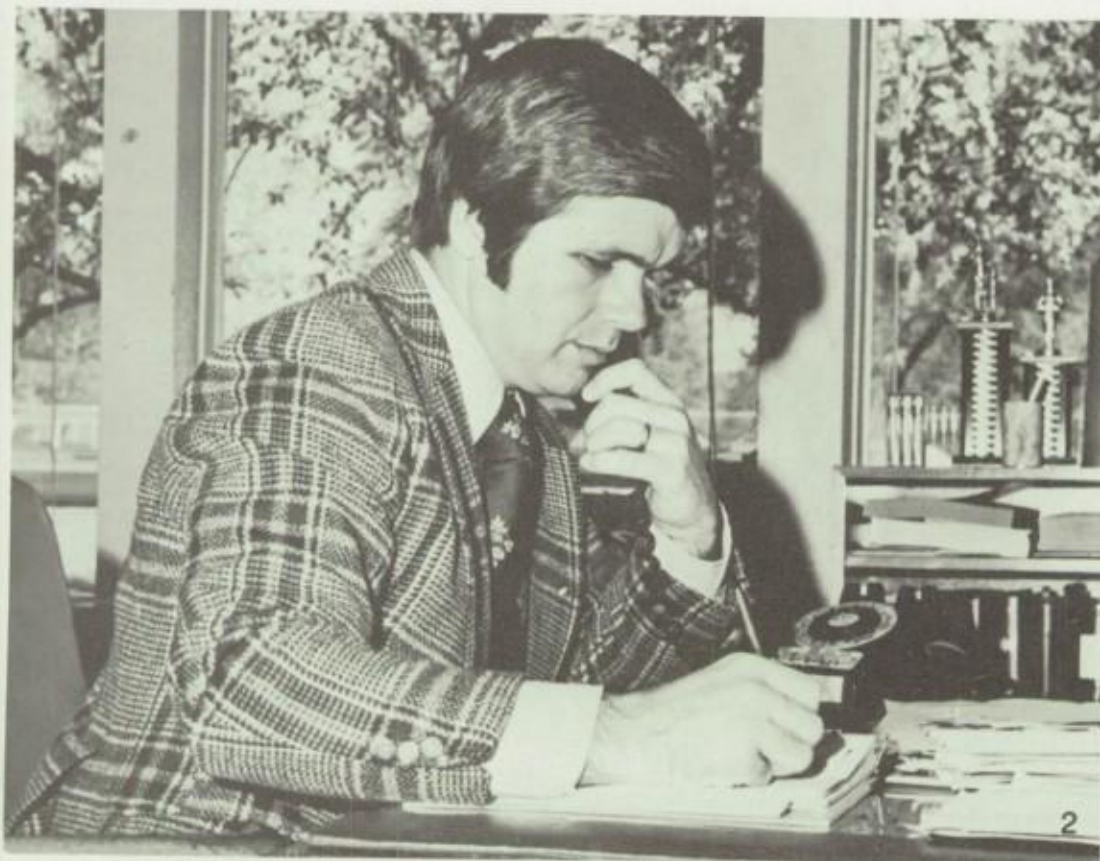

As the time draws close for our seniors to leave Arcadia High School, we are reluctant to say goodbye to this wonderful group of young people. Your time at Arcadia High School has gone by quickly and I sincerely wish we had twice the number of years to spend together in learning and such other activities that have been so much a part of the last three years. Each of you in your way and all of you as a class have made a great contribution to Arcadia High School. Many fine traditions have been started during your tenure of time, and we will remember you, first, as a stabilizing class, second, as a hard-working group of men and women, and third, as perhaps the most creative seniors ever to attend Arcadia. The staff and I feel that we have come to know you better than any of the preceding classes and the reason for this is that you have wanted to be involved in every phase of school life. During your years as students, we have turned over to you for solutions more decision-making problems than we have to any other class and have found that your answers have been the best for this school. We will cherish the marks and records you have left and will look forward to following your future careers with pride. We wish each of you the best of luck and great success.

An unidentified student reported that, while gazing up from his geometry homework in study hall, he saw a streak across the rally court. He blinked his eyes and it was gone. Several minutes later he looked up again and saw another blur. After careful investigation it was discovered that the first blur was our own Nurse Merz racing off to an emergency situation with her wheelchair. The second blur was none other than Nurse Merz again, wheeling the victim back to her office to get a little bit of treatment and lots of tender loving care.

As a student body we sometimes don't realize just how big a part those smiling faces behind the attendance windows play in our lives. "Rules are rules," are words of wisdom spoken often by the attendance secretaries as tardy students plead for excused re-admit slips. These ladies are forced to make major decisions every day. For instance, the boy who came running up to the office window at 8:11 A.M., breathlessly explaining that on his way to school a little old lady with stepped out in front of his car. Begging for a tardy excused, he concluded his story with, "I couldn't just run her over, could I?" The smiling face nodded sympathetically and answered, "Rules are rules."

Despite a

Gas Shortage

the English Department undertook many field trips to provide an insight into the cultural world. The Shakespeare classes viewed Romero and Juliet while students in the MGM and Advanced Placement programs made a few quick trips to the movies and the Music Center. Perhaps the highlight of the year was the play Cyrano de Bergerac. Besides watching a superb performance, the day also included an informal question and answer session with "Cyrano", Richard Chamberlain.

Students gained an insight into the cultural world by learning to speak in in the Foreign Language Department. Spanish, French, Latin and German once again were the four major areas of booming interest. Conversational Spanish and Chic. Lit. (Chicano Literature) were new to this year's program.

An unusual

occurred in the Science Department as a family of rats moved in with the students. Instead of getting labs in on time, the student and teachers spent most of their time catching the rats with peanut butter. Mr. White caught the largest rat, measuring 10 ½ inches, excluding the tail. Rumor had it that there was a Mama and Papa rat that were very productive. Those two were eventually caught and the problems of rats and their mice were over. Among other strange parties a cat visited the Math Department. Climbing in through a window, he made his home in the space between the roof and the suspended ceiling in Mr. Johnson's room. Upon walking around he apparently found a weak spot, because Mr. Johnson's lecture was interrupted when the cat fell from the ceiling on Lori Friedrich's head. Finally coming to his senses, Mr. Johnson opened the door and the cat left, never to return.

The Physical Education Department broke tradition when they combined several formally all boy and all girl classes, and made them co-educational. Bowling was a favorite class among the students, which took them off campus and to a local bowling alley, where they learned how not to bowl

Gutter Balls

As the course progressed some skilled students even managed to get a few strikes and spares.

I'm glad to see you're all smiling and enjoying it. You are just beginning and you can get it right away. Congrats!

To help speed photo production a wall was removed and dark room facilities enlarged in the Publications House. This was an enormous help to both the Pow Wow and the Annual Staff. The Art Department has taken many of study so that now, states Mr. Butler, the department feels that it has covered every major field of art. This year the Music Department expanded its program to include courses in music history and theory. All of the concert groups gave public performances as part of its program. Students were prepared for the business world by taking various courses offered by the Business Education Department. Students' skills and self-confidence were increased by practice in real-life situations.

New Directions

Guest speakers added new zest to many history and government classes as teachers invited them to lecture to their students. The most unusual speakers were three from Chino State Prison, whose names will be withheld to protect the innocent. Mr. Burke and Mr. Meiers arranged for three men, who were on probation, to come and share their startling experiences with the students.

New stools in the drafting rooms left a poor

Impression

among many Industrial Art students, according to Mr. Bill Jokkel, department head. The enrollment of girls in such classes as drafting and wood shop was noticeably higher. Girls also learned how not to burn a meal in the Home Economics Department. Mrs. Pauline Godfrey, back from college and newly married, was a new addition to the Home Economics staff. Emphasizing that everyone can learn, the Special Education Department taught at a pace that the students could keep up with.

Seniors

The senior class officers for 1973-1974 were infected not with but with a strong desire to do a job well done.

Starting the year with a substantial budget deficit, the class officers undertook numerous fund raisers. Two car rallies, a Fifth Quarter and a candle sale helped the senior class to raise enough money for the senior gift to the school. The highlight of the year was the annual Senior Assembly, where through humorous skits, seniors reminisced upon their three years at Arcadia High. Class officers included: Dave Donnelly, president; Dave Frascchetti, vice-president; Debbie Turner, treasurer; Sandy Bydalek, recording secretary; Susan Nash, corresponding secretary; Sandy Kathman, historian; Jill O'Keefe, youth commissioner; Dave Dolkas, senator.

In early February, the names of sixty-one Gold Seal graduates were released. These persons seemed to be as each ranked near the top ten per cent of the class. Each person had to maintain a 'B+' to 'A' average throughout their high school careers. As a reward for their diligence, their diplomas were affixed with the Gold Seal of the California Scholarship Federation.

Twelve members of the Senior Class were certainly not considered as their peers elected them Senior Most. Following write-in nominations, six candidates in each category were chosen as finalists, with the senior class voting for the eventual winners. Randy Blumhagen and Kim Clifford were chosen as best looking.

Due to their outgoing dispositions, Jeff Werk and Gretchen Gerwe were chosen for best personality. Hal Finney and Judy Noodleman's gray matter earned them the title of most brains. Jeff Armstrong and Lyn Martindale were voted most spirit because of their performances at sports events and pep assemblies. Larry Marscheck and Karen Killian held the honor of being most likely to succeed as they headed up numerous school-sponsored activities. The service award was shared by Bob Vogel and Pam Anderson for the extensive time and effort they have given to the school.

Most Brains: Judy Noodleman
Hal Finney

Most Spirit: Lyn Martindale
Jeff Armstrong

Best Personality: Gretchen Gerwe
Jeff Werk

Most Likely to Succeed: Karen Killian
Larry Marscheck

Best Looks: Kim Clifford
Randy Blumhagen

Most Service: Pam Anderson

California Savings and Loan Award: Calvin Slater

Betty Crocker Award: Laura Kochevar

Arcadia High was extremely fortunate this year in having numerous outstanding scholarship winners. On the basis of their PSAT scores, taken in October of their junior year, nine Arcadians became finalists in PSAT/NMSQT competition. Eleven more were commendation winners. Applying for local scholarships in mid-Fall, Arcadia students were soon to receive awards from Bank of America, Gemco, Betty Crocker and California Savings and Loan. Through these scholarships, Arcadians were able to until they began college in the Fall.

Civitan Citizen of the Year:
Larry Marscheck

As a result of their applying for local community scholarships in early fall, seven lucky seniors in compositely winning over seven hundred dollars in cash awards. Because of their outstanding scholarship, leadership and character, Judy Noodleman, Gretchen Gerwe and Elaine Symonds were presented with the Hinshaw's Department Store Scholarship, Derby Restaurant Award and the Santa Anita Turf Club Scholarship, respectively. Larry Marscheck's and Franceen Laidlaw's superior citizenship earned them the honor of being Civitan Citizen of the Year and Outstanding Teenage Citizen, respectively. Scholarship, service and extra-curricular activities provided the impetus for the selection of Allan Hollingsworth and Karen Killian as Boy and Girl of the Year.

Struck Gold

Decision

The mountains rise majestically challenging cityland with their beauty.
A conflict is present in the individual the innocent bystander who must choose between existing and living.
Both sides have power to take hold of you.
Resist the bribes of the city beckoning you with her neon lights,
And her confusing noises.
She will only bring you down.
Go up to the mountains
they sit silently awaiting your arrival.

The Architect

He's an architect, carefully constructing,
a wall of protection, using those blueprints only known to him.

Materials of perfection, prove him infallible
his flawless wall, sound and idealized hides all.

Behind must lie, human characteristics common faults and problems trying to diffuse thru that wall of the soul.

Karen Killian

The subconscious is the backwater of the soul.
Like myriad subsurface currents my thoughts ebb and flow; corridors of the mind; passages of emptiness through which flow troubled memories of vague fleeting images and swirling patterns, intricate, yet indistinct.

TUMBLEWEEDS

Little sister
Where did you go
Your childhood passed
I didn't know
One day we talked
Not like before
You were so serious
And mature
I felt sad and wondered Would you still giggle
Like before
Or ask all those questions

In exasperating quantity
Could I still call you
Tumbleweeds
Because of your hair
And would you still wake me
On cold mornings
Screaming like a banshee Bouncing up and down on top of me
Laughing hysterically
Because you knew I wouldn't Really be angry
When did you stop
Climbing trees

Flying kites
Skinning knees
And splashing in April puddles
One day we talked and joked
Not teased
I was sad
Would you go through The mistakes I did
The pain, the triumphs
The questions
When did you change
Tumbleweeds
Where did you go?

Of Sound and Silence

When I am deep into alone,
Within myself,
Hiding from myriads of factory-processed people,
And scores of pre-packaged thoughts,
I know who I am,
And I am astounded by the tranquility in my sound.
When I am thrust into a function,
Lost within a group,
Interacting with myriads of factory-processed people,
And scores of pre-packaged thoughts,
I cannot find who I am,
And I am shocked by the chaos within my silence.

I'm not sure I understand why I am drawn.
I'd love to pour through your eyes and learn the sunkeness of your pleasure.
To search through each crevice and touch a lingering thought, a passing idea.
I even feel your image comforting my mind, reminding me of the morrow separated from the past.
Now
there's nearly a hint of peace;
still I loath the permanency . . .

Underclassmen

Headed by Greg Karr, president; Nancy Hage, vice-president; Caren Ashton, treasurer; Sue Brooks, recording secretary, Jane Kofford, corresponding secretary; Helen Nunez, historian; Gina Scurto, youth commissioner and Sue Gibson, senator, the junior class had an extremely active year. An evening of humor and excitement was provided as donkeys with students, teachers and policemen aboard during a donkey basketball game held boys gym. Aside from sponsoring two Fifth Quarters, the highlight of the year was the annual Junior-Senior Prom held at the renowned Cocoanut Grove on May 18th.

The sophomore class experienced several minor setbacks as they completed the registration process in mid-September. In October, Brent Daves, president; Bill Kramb, vice-president, Malisa Masonovich, corresponding secretary, Gretchen Linger, recording secretary, Paula Kathman, treasurer; Anne Winslow, historian; Martha Bauman, youth commissioner and Tony Garzio, senator, were elected to head the sophomore class. Officers aided the executive council with their many duties throughout the year. In mid-Spring, the sophomore class unveiled many

Tina,

We have had so much fun this year. I'm so glad I got to know you, 'cause you are so much fun to be with. Remember that week of midterms and we played tennis practically every night. We weren't too hooked on Steve, were we? Well anyway, Tina, you are really a nice friend to me and I love ya a lot. Please have a great summer and I know I'll be seeing you. LOVE,

Life is a traveling experience. One moves from day to day, to another time, another place. We have tried to capture such motion in the theme of this year's book. It has taken many hours of service from many dedicated people to create a book that others would enjoy. My only hope is that we have been successful.

you're the woman who back yesterday and a time at the wedding

And when you think you've reached your destination look to the horizon and see that you have just a little farther to go.

Jana Deena
What can I say! You're ~~the~~ a total fox and a totally great girl. You & Karen & Jackie & Sheri are the bitchiest sophomores I know! I hope you have a super great summer, lets go to the beach together sometime. Also, come on over and well cruise the town in my Porsche, alright? Anyways, Good luck next year and in the years to come! Have a good time at the wedding. Stay foxy & I'll see ya later.

Love ya,
Jana

Tina,
Hi, well I Don't know ya too well
But, I know you love the Beach your a super Beach freak.

TINA I ENJOYED HAVING YOU IN MY ALGEBRA CLASS AND IN HISTORY FIRST SEMESTER, NEXT YEAR I WOULD LIKE TO GET TO KNOW YOU A BIT BETTER. MAYBE I'LL BE IN YOUR ALGEBRA CLASS NEXT YEAR.
HAVE A GREAT SUMMER, ALL-WEITKAMP

Tina - it was fun this year, knowing you - I hope we can all get together this summer and go play tennis (with Steve?)!
Hope you Karen remain friends. I wonder what's gonna happen - oh well I'll be seeing you soon I hope!
Love,
Jackie

Tina,
Dint really got to know you that well, but I did - know was really nice - ~~to~~ nice for having met in the head - have fun!

Tina, I'm really glad we got to be friends together. I've had a lot of times the car ride (alright!)
and I've had a lot of fun with you. I'll probably see you again this summer, if you have fun and mind of

Tina,
You're really a sweet person, always smiling.
Ya I know what you've been doing when you say that you going to go play tennis. Hope that I can see you soon (summer). My. Ya keep your head together!!
Lindy

TINA,
IT WAS FUN IN Spanish II
EVEN THOUGH I flunked.
HAVE A GREAT SUMMER AT THE BEACH, HOPE TO SEE YOU NEXT
